- From day 1, I noticed that Aaunterria used lots of jargon and filler in her lectures which made her lectures less understandable. It was hard to follow what she was trying to communicate because a simple sentence would be unnecessarily complicated. But, by no means was this class hard! I have over 100% because she offers many extra credit points.

I would not recommend Aaunterria under any circumstances. Her class has no clear guidelines, and those that exist are followed arbitrarily. I have never had a less succinct teacher.

Aaurterria was a very bad instructor. There was no communication, and stated criteria were not followed for grading. I'd suggest any other TA if at all possible, or to take it with an actual professor.

I loved Professor Bollinger-Deters! She was absolutely eye-opening and incredibly engaging. She gave a clear warning that the material she would be going over in this class would be hard for some but she made it accessible and safe to remove ourselves if the subject matter became difficult. TAKE LOTS OF NOTES journals and quizzes go together.

She's a really nice person but I learned absolutely nothing in this class. All she did was read lecture slides and talk for an hour. Only things that were graded were journals and exams basically. Super boring.

Aaurterria is an instructor to be avoided at all costs. Very difficult to reach and unwilling to work with students, and has unreasonable and uncommunicated standards. Also insists on being called Professor despite having no PhD and being a graduate student herself.

Prof. Bollinger-Deters is amazing! She has some really interesting insights and I could listen to her talk about concepts around media for HOURS. She is super passionate about the subjects she teaches and she WANTS you to succeed. I really appreciate that if the whole class does well on an assignment she removes assignments as a reward, cool asf!

I had Professor Bollinger for ETST 373 Gynaeohorror: Horror Films, Race, and the Female Body. It was a great class. Most of the course is lectures but they include discussions, and watching a film related to the class. She truly cares about her students and keeps them engaged. I really enjoyed this class as it was fun and really interesting.

Terrible lectures and power points; super hard to follow, unclear about expectations and logistics for assignments. However, they're willing to help if you reach out early enough & always gave me decent grades for work I thought was missing the mark. Just show up to recitation and do your best to keep up with assignments and JTC will be a breeze.

One of the worst teachers at CSU. Grading criteria are not clearly communicated. She doesn't understand that for most people this class is just an AUCC, and treats it as if it's the most important class you'll ever take. Take another section if at all possible.

Aaunterria was so rude, arrogant, and condescending, and graded on the most ridiculous things. She often doesn't tell you why she's taking off points, and won't give you a real answer if you ask. Communication was also lacking. Definitely would not recommend.

Professor Bollinger's class is by far one of my favorite classes and I'm a STEM major. I highly recommend taking her class. She grades you on participation in lectures and there are only a couple major assignments, which she gives you a lot of time to complete. So don't fall behind or brush it off. She offers extra credit as well. An easy A.

This class is TERRIBLE! She is the hardest grader on the worst things such as grammar and punctuation and takes off a lot of points for the smallest detail missing. Very boring because she just talks the whole time and it is pointless. You have to read and watch lots of movies on your own time and there are so many essays you have to write.

Most pointless class I've ever taken. There were actually lectures on how to use capitalization. She wants us to call her professor, but she's a TA and a grad student. Took points for things like putting the course number on assignments, or with no explanation at all. Recitation required but useless. It's easy but you'll lose your mind.
