Dozens of Vaxxed Athletes Are Suddenly Collapsing and Nobody's Allowed to Ask Why

"The vaccine" narrative is collapsing as quickly as healthy athletes... at least the narrative SHOULD be collapsing if it wasn't all getting covered up.

by Al Rocker | November 20, 2022 | News

There's an extremely inconvenient truth no one mainstream dare is openly surfacing across the globe. Professional athletes, who are among the healthiest people on the planet, are collapsing with inexplicable cardiac and bodily health conditions, often within days of receiving the vaccine. The only common denominator among them is that they've recently been injected with the Covid-19 jabs.

Unfortunately, this truth is being kept under wraps. Nobody's allowed to state the obvious or ask questions that could expose the reality of what harm being caused by the vaccines. Just yesterday, stories emerged, including here, of professional soccer star Fabrice Tiozzo collapsing on the field while grabbing at his chest. But when one of the announcers dared to suggest the vaccine could be the root cause, the broadcast was cut off.

The facts surrounding this long-standing phenomenon, which includes nearly six-dozen athletes in recent months, are so stark that mainstream media has allowed for the cracks — one of the known life-threatening side effects of the vaccines — to be exposed. Yet, the media's attempts to silence the truth are becoming more obvious and more pathetic.

The current phenomenon is also unrivaled in any comparable era in the annals of athletics. Never before have so many athletes been struck down by cardiac arrest and other life-threatening conditions during a game.

The mainstream media is cynically embedded in this major global plot. The German online outlet Blackworld.tv compiled a video montage of the cardiac incidents in October when another online outlet Remix News picked it up and published it on Twitter. It's the same process that has been followed since the pandemic began. Alternative media outlets break the story, and then mainstream media outlets follow suit, often with some cherry-picking.

But there do not include Filipino professional basketball star Kobe Paras, who on Wednesday's game during tournament play in Hong Kong. The Rebisco fan Philippines reported he had a cardiac arrest. And Kobe Paras has had a documented history of heart issues. He was hospitalized for heart issues in 2020 and was diagnosed with heart arrhythmia and had to undergo a surgical procedure.

Many top athletes from both Europe and the US have reported serious side effects after a Covid-19 vaccination. Bayern Munich midfielder Leon Goretzka, who tweeted his shot of the cancer, Chelsea, formally injected it in his left arm after the team couldn't take anymore. "Great pain in the left arm following the vaccination," he wrote on Instagram. Days later, he was in a hospital bed. It's a scene, I can't even. I can't stay."

Turkish professional footballer Emil Pelivan (28) collapsed in the game between his club Sivaspor's and Genclerbirlig. It's reported by German daily Bild, Pelivan collapsed during the game, according to the Slovakian broadcaster SPA and the newspaper Vesmirky Sveta. According to the club, he suffered cardiac arrest and then he received CPR. He is paralyzed on one side and has no ability to speak.

This week, on November 16, in the middle of the second half of the game between Hapoel Haifa and Maccabi Tel Aviv, Israeli professional basketball player collapsed on the field due to a cardiac incident and had to be carried to hospital.

Ali Kandiz, Director of Intensive Care, Tzafon Medical Center [we've stood while holding the chest] during the Chanhanu League game against Real Madrid on Wednesday night.
